Well, Mr. Editor, here we come again, shooting at everything in sight. Still living; and having a good time, as the King of the Universe has ordained. We should therefore be led by the direction of His Omnipotent Hand, speaking to our fellow man in ways of kindness and love.

A. J. Shropshire returned from Clovis Wednesday night, where he had gone on a flying business trip.

Oscar Hunter is in Clovis, where he will possibly remain for work the balance of the winter, notwithstanding the "death and burial" of that once prosperous little city.

We are informed that D. K. Fitzhugh is building for himself a town Northeast of Elida, which he proposes to some day make the county seat of Roosevelt county. The name of the town is Kermet. Success to you, Bro. Fitzhugh.

Miss Myrtle Creek has been visiting her brother John, at Judson, the past week, and has no doubt had a very enjoyable time.

The young people spent a very pleasant time at the home of J. Luster and family New Year's evening.

J. B. King, owing to feeble condition and failing health, is compelled to keep in doors of late, which we regret greatly. We need him very much in our locality to survey our lands.

Stephen Price, C. F. Price, A. J. Shropshire and wife, and Mrs. Williams went shopping last Saturday.

Thomas Bledsoe has been selling a lot of feed and grain lately. We are very glad he has it to sell.

We are exceedingly pleased to see so much interest manifested in early breaking this season. That's the proper thing, keep old Buck and Jude on the go whenever the ground is not frozen to hard, and you will have the advantage of the "warm weather" farmers who wait until mid summer to plow and plant, and you will have hog and hominy to eat when the other fellows have to go visiting.

Carl Pace, of Judson, has a very interesting school in this district. He commenced the term on January 3rd. We wish him and his pupils success.

Arthur Van Wickland, of Kansas City, Mo., has been the guest of A. J. Shropshire and family. He is looking for a place for him and his mother to locate. He comes highly recommended, and we commend him to the good will of our people.

Remember the Church Organization, by Rev. C. D. Spillman, 4th Sabbath in January, being 23rd inst., at 11 a. m.

We would be glad to see every farmer who is really interested in farming use some space in the Kenna Record, and learn by questions and answers some of the practical experience of each, and especially of those who have been longest here.

With best wishes, we will now hang up again, to come later, when another target presents itself.

OLD TEXAS.

W. H. H. Clappert and wife of Olive, were the guest of the West hotel Thursday night. They came after a load of merchandise.

J. R. Hooper and daughter Maud, of Ranger Lake, were guests of the West hotel last Wednesday night. Miss Maud was on her way to Roswell.

C. S. Herringtoe, of Stuart, Neb., came in Sunday night and left Monday for Ranger Lake to visit the family of J. R. Hooper.

T. E. Staack, of Rochelle, Ill., who has a claim near here, left here Tuesday for Amarillo, Texas, where he will help place some gasoline engines.
